VINTAGE

Let's get to know each other.

My name is Tracy, and I founded Vintage Playing Cards.

It all began when I found a box of old vintage games at a boot fair. I was really excited but when I tried to play the games I found that every game had a couple of pieces missing. They were now useless as games so I started thinking about what I could do with them.

I started using an old pack of playing cards as greeting cards and showed them to a few local shops in Walthamstow and they were all really impressed and started selling them. That was the first of many products.
